

More than 200 people showed up at the Steeles Memorial Chapel in Toronto yesterday for COREY HAIM'S funeral. The service was private, but fans who couldn't get in gathered outside the building. As expected, COREY FELDMAN did NOT attend, as a matter of fact, reports say "There were no Hollywood types there, just friends and family. It was invite only and very strict about entry. "People came without invites and were turned away.

Justin Timberlake is the latest to be included on the laundry list of celebrity appearances on GLEE. Series creator Ryan Murphy said: "[Justin] is the one the kids jump up and down about every day and beg me to meet with him. I'm a huge fan of his music. I think he's so talented. And he's a true triple threat: He can sing, dance, and act. So yeah, we'd love to have him on. We start shooting the second season in July and I think I will work some magic around that time for him if I can."

Spencer Pratt announced Monday that he was leaving The Hills to work for the cyber security division at American Defense Enterprise. A source says bull, and claims that in reality, Spencer was kicked off the set for flipping out and threatening to kill a female producer, and has to take a six week hiatus to undergo anger management.

BRITNEY SPEARS is single again. She broke up with her agent (slash) boyfriend, Jason Trawick, at the end of February. A so-called "source" says, quote, "They were fighting a lot and have not been getting along." It must not have been a bad breakup, because Jason is still Britney's agent.
